

Women Block Bulldozer Path

The Knott County landowners-strip mine battle took on a new light yesterday as 25 people from the Honey Gap section of Clear Creek halted a striping operation when women sat down in the path of large bulldozers.

Four of the men were armed with rifles and revolvers but no shooting was reported. Two men were arrested by the Knott County Sheriff's Department. Lodged in Knott County Jail at Hindman and charged with Breach of Peace were Sam Hollified and a man who refused to give his name to authorities.

Kentucky State Police Troopers from Hazard and Pikeville were there at the request of Knott County Sheriff Bud Hyton.

A restraining order was issued last week against seven men who stopped operation of the company last Wednesday.

The order directs, in part, that you, and all persons working through, by, under or on behalf of you are guilty of violating the order.

Perry Circuit Judge Don A. Ward has called for a hearing tomorrow morning at 10 a.m. in Hindman for the following people to show cause why they should not be held in contempt of court for violating the order.

Sam Hollified, Mrs. Sam Hollified, Frank Fugate, Paul

Ashley, Mrs. Morris Shepherd, Nathan Combs, Mrs. Cordis Smith, and Alex Begley.

A check with officials this morning revealed that the two arrested men were still in jail and that all is peaceful at Honey Gap.

A spokesman for the mining company, Caperton Coal Company, said the company is going to mine coal on the land.

Jaycees Ask For Names Of Soldiers

The Hazard Jaycees are asking all residents of Perry County to remember the men we have in Viet Nam during the Christmas Season. Anyone who has a son or relative in Viet Nam is asked to send his name to the Hazard Jaycees, Box 666, Hazard, Kentucky. The Jaycees will send their personal greetings to the men in Viet Nam.

A list of the men will be printed in the Hazard Herald and all citizens of Hazard and Perry County are urged to send cards or small gifts to the men.

The Jaycees hope that other Civic Groups and Church groups will hold special services during the Christmas Season to remember the men who are fighting and dying to preserve those freedoms we all hold so dear. It is especially during this time of year that the men from Perry County would love to be remembered by their fellow citizens.

Any group who wishes to send contributions or small Christmas gifts to the men in Viet Nam should do so as soon as the list of men in Viet Nam is published in the Hazard Herald. Wendell Combs and Harold Hudson, project co-chairmen, humbly request your addresses of relatives or friends who are now stationed in Viet Nam.

Be sure to send the complete military address to P. O. Box 666, Hazard, Ky. The Jaycees can not accomplish this project without everyone's cooperation.

A resolution passed by the Kentucky Jaycees is printed on Page 2 of today's Herald.

The Perry County Bar Association elected Richard C. Ward as the Association's new president for the coming year at last Thursday's meeting at the VFW club.

Also elected to office was Grover Wilson. Mr. Wilson will serve as secretary-treasurer of the bar association.

Highlights of the meeting included the passage of a resolution to establish a Perry County Law Library in the Perry County Courthouse when the new structure is completed.

The Perry Fiscal Court approved the law library at Monday's fiscal court meeting.

The bar association also voted to buy a judicial robe which is to be worn during the upcoming terms of the Perry Circuit Court.

In other action, the bar group went on record as advising the public that a recent ruling of the Court of Appeals in the case of "Frazier vs. Citizens Fidelity Bank and Trust Company" prohibit anyone other than a duly licensed attorney from preparing any deed, mortgage, or other legal instrument unless he should be a party to the instrument. The practice of law as defined in the rules of the Court of Appeals, 3.020, is as follows:

"The practice of law is any service rendered involving legal knowledge or legal advice whether of representation, counsel, advocacy in or out of Court, rendered in respect to the rights, duties, obligations, liabilities, or business relations of one requiring the services. But nothing herein shall prevent any person not holding himself out as a practicing attorney from drawing any instrument to which he is a party without consideration unto himself therefore."

Any person who becomes engaged in the practice of law, as above defined, and who is not a duly licensed attorney, is in violation of the law and may be held in contempt of the Court of Appeals for the unauthorized practice of law.

Development Council Meets In Hindman

The Upper Kentucky River Area Development Council held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday morning at the Hindman Settlement School when the group discussed the articles of incorporation which were written up by four of the members last week.

According to President George Wooton, County Judge of Leslie County, the incorporation papers were drawn up in Hazard with the help of Robert Morgan, Floyd Hall, Larry Cauldill and Wooton.

Some thirty persons attended the day-long meeting which was highlighted by a heated discussion over article two of the proposed by-laws for the organization.

Section 6 of article two which is titled "Board of Directors" states that two board members present from each county shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business of any meeting of the Board.

Tom Gish of The Mountain Eagle newspaper in Whitesburg contends that the trouble with the UKRADC is that the real people of the county areas cannot attend the meetings because the meetings are held during working hours instead of at night.

He also criticized the group for not having representatives from the city government of Whitesburg in the group. Gish commented that the organization would better itself if they would let some of the poorer people take hand in the group.

"This group is not truly representative of the four-county area," quipped Gish.

George Wooton replied that many of the city government officials in the four-county area had been invited to attend and participate in the development group.

The day's events were centered around the incorporation papers, but according to officials, plans will be studied again before they are sent to Frankfort.

NYC Program May Be Extended Says Director

The local Neighborhood Youth Corps program may receive approval of a six-months' extension program in the near future according to NYC Director W. P. Combs.

Combs said this morning that James Greenwald of the U. S. Department of Labor, told him in a telephone conversation earlier this week that he thought the extension would be granted without any trouble and that the local program would probably receive an increase in quota, also.

"At the present time, 200 youths are employed by the Neighborhood Youth Corps. A request was made for 250 positions when the application was submitted for the new program according to Combs.

"Mr. Greenwald is due here this week," said Combs. "and he may have direct results then."

"If the new program is approved all the present NYC participants will be required to apply for the program again said Combs.

Combs also stressed that anyone not doing satisfactory work at his present job will not be rehired under the extended program.

The five-member Perry County Advisory Committee will evaluate the present employees between now and January 12, 1966. At that time, recommendations will be made on the work.

According to the October report, 67 youngsters worked a total of 30,619½ hours under the NYC program.

The monthly wages totaled $38,274.41 in October.

Two of the NYC youths are now being trained as x-ray technicians in Hazard according to Dr. Lyndon Combs, head of the Cornett Hill Action Group Writes L.B.J.

The Cornett Hill Community Action Committee has sent a letter to the President of the United States asking for help in what the letter said was, "too much pressure being exerted against us, causing us to fail in our effort to eliminate poverty."

The letter further states that the C.H.C.A.C. had it called to their attention that the Mayors of large cities are trying to deny the people in poverty any participation in policy-planning positions in community action programs.

The pressure being applied is reportedly from power structures or the controlling agencies in the War on Poverty.

"The members of the Cornett Hill Action Committee receive very little assistance from the power structure who control and dictate to the various department heads and virtually control the administration of all programs," the letter went on to say.

The letter was signed by Troy Lewis, president and Ollie Stout, secretary of the C.H.C.A.C.

Vietnamese Group Tours

A three-member group of observers from Saigon, South Vietnam, is touring Eastern Kentucky this week through a program being sponsored by the Agency for International Development, a branch of the U. S. State Department.

The team is headed by Dr. Nguyen Van Hon, director of the second health section of the ministry of education of South Vietnam.

Dr. Mary Pauline Fox, director of Leslie County's OEO public health project, along with Dr. Lyndon Combs, head of the Perry County Health Department, are hosting the tours through the Eastern Kentucky counties.

Accompanying Dr. Hon are Mrs. Pham Thi Lang, a dentist and another doctor, Mrs. Nguyen Thi Vinh.

Eastern Kentucky Area

The group is touring schools and health centers throughout the county while visiting the cafeterias at the Cornett Hill School and the R. W. Combs Elementary at Happy.

They plan to spend another week in Eastern Kentucky before visiting other parts of the United States. Kentucky is the only Appalachian state that the group will visit according to officials.

Since two of the Vietnamese visitors cannot speak any English, an interpreter, Mr. Rene Delecan, is making the tour with them. One of the group has acquired some English grammar and can speak the language to a small degree.

Delecan, a native of France, has been a United States citizen for the past ten years.

The Herald plans to publish a feature story next week on Vietnamese's visit along with their personal opinions of Eastern Kentucky.

Weather Box

Hazard and area residents experienced the first real cold snap of the fall last night as the temperature dipped to 25 degrees. Forecasts for the next two days promise a warming trend with some showers expected, possibly tomorrow or Saturday. The low tonight is expected to between 32 and 38 with tomorrow's high being around 55. Looks like good football weather for the Wildcats.

Low Cost Electric Power Is Advocated

Plans for the establishment of an abundant source of low-cost electric power for the Eastern section of the United States will be considered in Washington, D. C., November 18-19 at the first general meeting of the Yankee-Dixie Power Assn.

The Association will bring together representatives of investor-owned utilities, municipal systems, rural electric cooperatives, and the Federal Government. More than half of the Nation's electric consumers are served by these electric suppliers.

Yankee-Dixie is seeking to provide a reliable wholesale source of low-cost power for electric utilities in 21 states along the Eastern seaboard on a non-profit basis. The territory involved stretches from Maine to Florida along the coast, and additionally encompasses the peripheral states of Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois.

This new source of electricity, which could serve as a supplement to the envisioned national power grid, could have provided reserve capacity as insurance against costly power failures such as experienced recently by New York City and other sections of the Northeastern United States.

Present plans call for construction of three or more two million kilowatt mine-mouth generating plants located throughout the Appalachian coal fields.

In addition to benefits this plan provides for electric utilities, the project will also aid the economically depressed Appalachian area by creating an estimated 5,000 coal mining jobs, and an undetermined manager, National Rural Electric Cooperation Association; Harry A. Boswell, states regional representative, Appalachian Regional Commission; Richard H. Wood, assistant administrator, Rural Electrification Administration.

Michael F. Widman, Jr., director, research and marketing, United Mine Workers of America; Harry M. Caudill, attorney, and author of "Night Comes to the Cumberlands," Whitesburg, Ky.; James F. Sullivan, assistant to the administrator, Rural Electrification Administration; and Eugene Weber, deputy for policy, Directorate of Civil Works U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

In addition, a panel discussion on "Financing of Yankee-Dixie" will be conducted by James G. Richardson, treasurer of Yankee-Dixie, Gainesville, Florida; Albert J. Merz, of John Nuveen and Company, Chicago; Bernard J. Van Ingen, Jr., of E. J. Van Ingen Company, New York; and Jerome Katzin, of Kuhn Loeb and Company, New York.

Co-chairman Hugh L. Spurlock, of Winchester, Ky., and Frank H. King, of Holyoke, Mass., will welcome the delegation.

Harry Caudill

number of related positions. The new power source will be available to 117 investor-owned power companies, 629 municipalities, and 322 rural electric systems. It is expected that this power supply would lower wholesale electric costs approximately 30 per cent in the area.

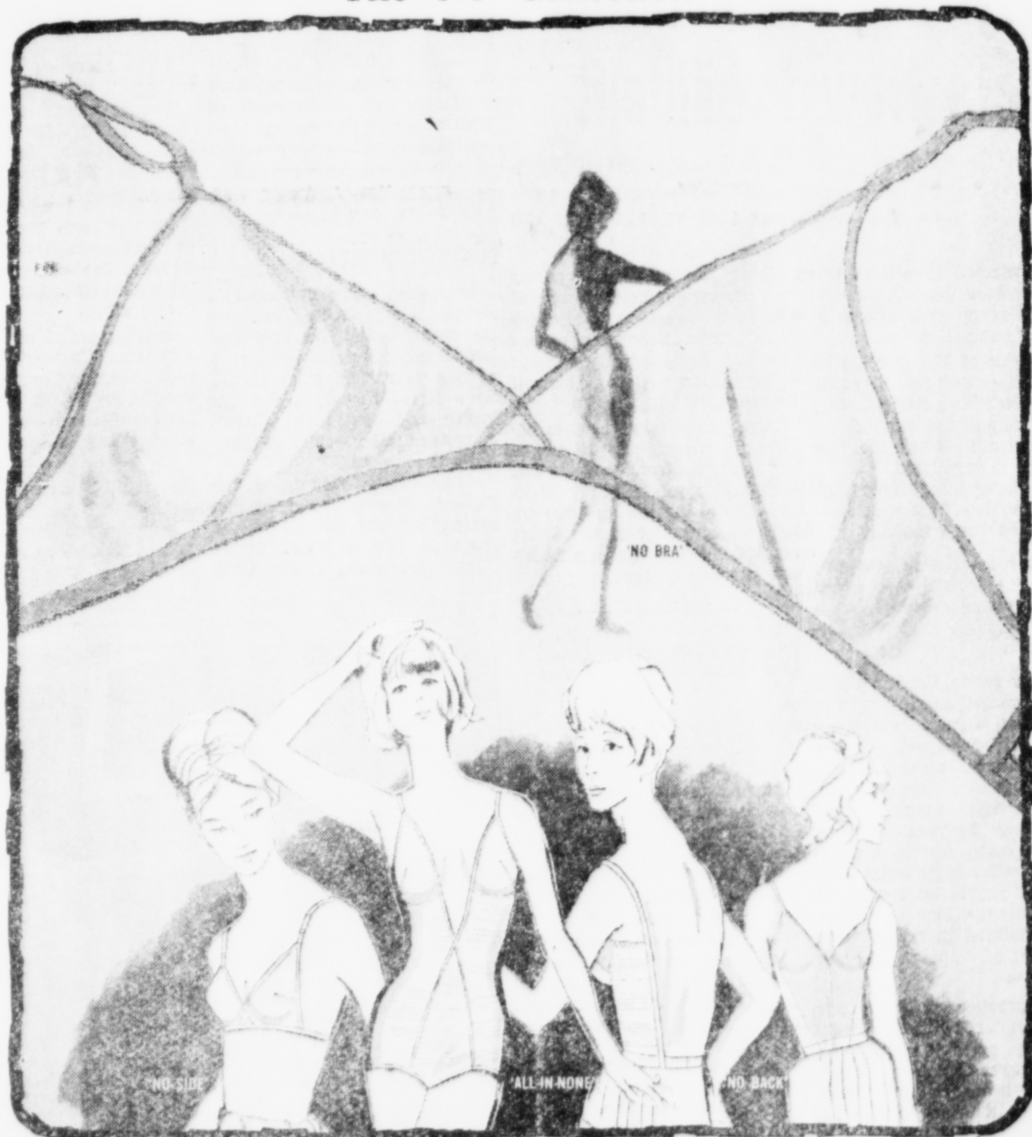

Prominent figures scheduled to address the two-day meeting at the Washington Hilton Hotel include:

Kenneth Holum, assistant secretary for water and power, Department of Interior; R. R. Popham, engineer for Larimore, Douglass, and Popham, New York City; Alex Radin, general manager, American Public Power Association; Jerry L. Anderson, acting general

ASK ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: A friend of ours had her appendix and gall bladder removed recently. Hortense has been driving everyone up the wall with the gory details of her operation.

Don't you feel it is tasteless to discuss one's innards at the dinner table? Hortense started to describe how much blood she has lost just as the maid brought in the beet borscht. I couldn't look at it.

When she exhausted the details of her own operation she started in on the woman across the hall who had had an abdominal tumor removed. Just as Hortense said, "It was the size of a watermelon," the dessert appeared. You guessed it. I didn't touch mine.

Please publish this letter. Maybe she'll take the hint. — NOT HUNGRY, THANK YOU

Dear Not Hungry: Here's the letter, but don't expect miracles. Anyone as insensitive as Hortense would not be fazed by a hint. You'll have to TELL her. And if I were you, I would.

Dear Ann Landers: Will you please say something in the column about girls who are reluctant to break off their engagement for fear of what people might say?

Several weeks ago my favorite niece announced her engagement to an attractive young man. It looked like an ideal match. Yesterday my niece sobbed out her story. She allowed herself to be talked into the engagement by her socially ambitious mother. (The young man went to the right schools, belonged to the right clubs, and his parents are Philadelphia Main Line.)

"Mother has always been more concerned with how my engagement announcement would look on the society pages than about my future happiness," is the way my niece put it.

She says her fiancé is a nice person but she does not love him. She is afraid to break the engagement because people will think she's a kook. I hope you can make a dent. I can't. — TRIED AND FAILED

Dear Tried: Tell your niece it's a lot less kooky to break an engagement than to marry a man she doesn't love just because she's afraid of what people might say. Furthermore, if your niece knew how little people cared she'd be shocked. Her real friends will be happy she avoided a very serious mistake. As for the others, why bother about them?

Dear Ann Landers: What do you think of a man who took up a woman's time for twelve years, begged her to marry him and then, when she finally said yes, got so sick he had to take pills and lie down on the sofa?

I am not a young girl any more, Ann. This whole thing has got me so upset I'm half sick myself. Since it happened he has said some pretty mean things. Now he tells me that the reason he has stomach trouble is because my cooking is lousy. (He never complained about my cooking when he was packing in the food here seven evenings a week.)

Is this man crazy or what? Should I continue to go with him now that I know he never really wanted to marry me? I must confess we are accustomed to each other and I'm afraid I'd be lost without one another. — VEXED

Dear Vexed: If you can forgive the dirty cracks about your cooking, continue to go with him for companionship.

Just because a man begs a woman to marry him doesn't mean he wants her to accept. Sometimes it only means he is asking what he considers a "safe" question.

If you have trouble getting along with your parents . . . if you can't get them to let you live your own life, send for Ann Landers booklet, "Bugged by Parents? How to Get More Freedom." Send 50c in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Degrees Conferred On Sorority Group

The Exemplary Degree was conferred upon five members of Alpha Xi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi on Monday, November 15. To qualify for the Exemplary Degree, Mrs. Chalmers Lindon, Mrs. George Kawaja, Mrs. Jack Adams, Mrs. Hoover Haynes, and Mrs. Floyd Hall, have been members of Beta Sigma Phi in good standing for at least four years, have completed four years of Ritual of Jewels Membership and have participated in the regular chapter activities including four years of required cultural program work.

Following the ritual each member was presented with an Exemplary Badge and certificate by the president, Mrs. Herb Charles.

Following the Exemplary Ritual the regular meeting was conducted with Mrs. Wilson Francis and Mrs. Joseph Castagnaro as hostesses.

During the business meeting, it was announced that the Beta Sigma Phi Bowling Team is now in first place. Also Mrs. Herb Charles, Mrs. Chalmers Lindon, and Mrs. Jack West were presented golf trophies at the Golf Club on Saturday night.

The program "Music in Drama and Dance" was given by Mrs. Perry Greer and Mrs. Dean Rogers. Mrs. Greer pointed out that music could be better appreciated if each of the three parts could be identified. With the help of Mrs. Bill Rector, they illustrated each part: the rhythm or beat, the melody or tune and the harmony.

Music plays an important part in our lives as can be seen by its use in operas, stage shows, plays, movies, TV and radio.

To show the effect of music in drama, Mrs. Greer and Mrs. Rogers acted out a skit with background music setting the scene.

The effect of music on dance was illustrated by Miss Mollie Ann Eversole.

Miss Kay Payne, Miss Donna Lynn Greer, Miss Elizabeth Barrett, and Miss Debbie Combs showed how modern music has affected dance by doing the Watusi, the Jerk, and the Slossum.

Those present were: Mrs. Herb Charles, Mrs. Jack West.

University of Kentucky Wants Rowe

A Hazard High senior has been offered a full four-year football grant-in-aid to the University of Kentucky at Lexington according to officials.

O. J. Rowe, a massive 224-pound tackle for the Hazard Bulldogs, told this columnist yesterday that UK assistant Joe Moss told him recently that a scholarship was awaiting him if he decided to attend the University next fall.

Rowe, a definite candidate for All-State even though the Hazard eleven finished with a 5-5 record, was given the invitation to attend UK while playing football by the University of Kentucky assistant after the '65 season had concluded.

Another major school has been after Rowe, also. Memphis State University has sent a letter to Rowe asking him to visit the Memphis, Tennessee, campus next month and accept a football grant to play his intercollegiate football there.

Bill Jasper, assistant coach at the University of Kentucky last year and now an assistant at Memphis State this year, is the scout assigned to Rowe by MSU.

O.J. said yesterday that he plans to visit both schools before a final decision is reached, but at the present time his number one choice is UK.

Pete Grigsby Is Tops At McDowell

What a difference a region makes? Or, what a difference material makes. Either one is a good statement to explain.

Pete Grigsby, Jr., former head cage coach at M. C. Napier High, would probably give one of the statements why his occupation as basketball coach suddenly turned into a bed of roses at McDowell High School in the 15th Region.

Grigsby was a coach who was unable to come up with a good season record while tutoring the boys at Napier, but always managed to play like "champions" come tournament time.

Pete left the Napier post in the fall of 1961 to return to McDowell after completing only a fair season with the Navajos during the '60-'61 cage season.

When he took over the head reigns at McDowell, many 14th Region observers predicted the same type of season at McDowell as he had completed at Napier. But here lies the difference.

Grigsby has compiled a 97-40 record since he has been at McDowell and has won at least 20 games in each of the four seasons.

Included in the 27-11 record that first year were two sparkling victories over an old 14th Region rival of Grigsby, Dilce Combs.

Grigsby's club hit the century mark against Dilce in the first game while thrashing the Panthers by better than 30 points and beat the Dilce Combs club 12 points later in the season at Hazard.

The McDowell mentor contends that the '61-'62 club was one of the best clubs that he had ever coached, and compares his sound this year with that one.

Heading the Grigsby team this season are a pair of six-foot-four aces in Rickey Hall and Arnold Turner along with 6-3 Tracy Stumbo and 5-9 hustler Donnie Hall.

With the preceding combination, McDowell has been chosen as the "team to beat" in the 15th Region this year by his rival coaches.

The McDowell record during the last four seasons looks like this: 27-11, 29-8, 20-13, and 27-8. It wouldn't be surprising if "pretty boy Pete" came up with another 20-game winning season this year and a trip to the greatest show on earth, the state tournament.

At the present time, McDowell holds a perfect 5-0 record, but McDowell is faced with its toughest situation of the young season Friday night.

McDowell will meet a good Garrett team at Garrett Friday night. And by the way, Garrett is the team that handed both Hindman and Carr Creek defeats in the first two weeks of the season this year.

But one thing, no one will probably ever know if his success is a result of changing regions or changing material. No matter what the answer may be, Pete is enjoying the success now, and does not give a darn what changed his fortune as long as his club continues to win.

It's No Use George

George Cornett, Cordia's fiery cage boss, argues a point with Pete Grigsby, one of the officials at the Napier-Cordia cage battle at Memorial Gym Tuesday night. Grigsby appears to be showing Cornett a new dance step and Cornett is giving 100% attention to the matter but the "ref" is really getting his point across to Cornett. Joe Golden, the other official, figures that Grigsby has the situation under control and needs no assistance. (Staff Photo)

Napier Wins 3rd Bowling Battle Clips Lions 91-67

By Arlis Fields

The M. C. Napier Navajos, looking like a group that was early for their practice, finally got their forces together Tuesday night to bomb a stubborn Cordia Lions five 91-67 in Memorial Gym.

Cordia was more than the Redmen bargained for in the first period as George Cornett's Lions stayed even for that one period.

Napier got its first lead with 4:35 left in the first period of back to back fieldgoals by Brack Baker to make the score 9-5.

Cordia's Solomon Combs cut the lead in half with a jumper but Darrell Fugate hit two free throws for Napier.

The first period ended 19-17 Napier on top.

The second period is where the Navajos threw a bomb at the Lions, scoring 22 points while Cordia could muster only 10 markers.

Glenn and Eddie Combs hit back to back for Napier to open the second period and give the skis a 23-17 lead.

Ced Grigsby hit for the Lions at what proved to be their last basket for a long spell.

Harold Combs got a two pointer, Charles Hoskins canned a free throw, Eddie Combs and Brack Baker connected from the field and Napier led 30-19 with 4:55 left in the first half.

Letcher Meets Wildcats Buckhorn, Combs Vie

First Rounds Contests Are Rematches;
New Champions Will Be Crowned Sat.

By OSCAR COMBS

Bill Back's Letcher County Eagles go against Lloyd Smith's Leatherwood Wildcats tomorrow night at 6:30 p.m. in the opening contest of the 6th annual Leatherwood Pre-Seasonal Tournament at the Leatherwood Gymnasium.

Undefeated Dilce Combs will take on winless Buckhorn at 8 p.m. in the second game of the doubleheader.

Both Leatherwood and Dilce Combs have already beaten their first-round opponents once this year as Leatherwood downed Letcher last week and Harvey Combs' Panthers whipped Buckhorn in the opening game of the season.

The two losers will collide at 6:30 p.m. Saturday night for consolation honors while the Friday victors tangle at 8 p.m. for the championship.

A new team will be crowned as champions this year as the 1962, 1963, and 1964 winner, M. C. Napier, is not participating in this year's field.

Two of the four teams, Leatherwood and Dilce Combs, are undefeated in three games.

Leatherwood, headed by Richard Trent and Mearl Campbell, has over taken Letcher County, Red Bird and Knott County while the Jeff club owns wins over Buckhorn, Cordia and Owsley County.

Carlson Lewis, a rugged 6-3 senior center, and Charles Minks, a high scoring forward, have been the standouts for

Honor Roll For Four Grades Listed For Combs

By H. C. Robertson

Daniel Boone Couch, age 73, was stricken with a heart attack at his home last week and died on the way to the hospital. He was a long-time resident of Combs and Perry County. Mr. Couch had been in poor health for some time. He was a member of the Church of the Lord Jesus Christ. Funeral services were Thursday, November 11, at 2:00 p.m. at Airport Gardens with the Reverends James and Malcolm Nece officiating. The Engle Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

A '59 Ford, driven by John Watkins, left the pavement and struck a '59 Ford, owned by John Stubblefield, in the dip at Combs last week. The Stubblefield car was a total wreck, and the Watkins car sustained considerable damage. Watkins was reported to have been under the influence of alcohol and was driving at a high rate of speed at the time of the accident.

Willie J. Cochran, of Airport Gardens, died Friday, at the Appalachian Hospital.

Lizzie Roberts, the daughter of Rev. Mark Roberts, burned to death with her two children, Saturday night about 11 o'clock, when her home went up in flames. The origin of the fire was not determined.

There was a collision between two cars on the Coal Harbor hill last week. The cars were being driven by James Couch, of Hazard, and Douglas Campbell, of Busy. The accident was due to improper passing and giving the wrong turn signal. Both drivers were at fault, according to the police report.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hoskins attended church at the Booneville Methodist Church Sunday. Rev. J. H. Godsey is the pastor there.

Mrs. Charlie Haley visited Mrs. Hallie Robertson, Sunday. The funeral of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Smith was at the Combs Baptist Church, Sunday, with Rev. Luther Deaton officiating.

The following names are those on the honor roll at the Combs Elementary School. They are listed by grades.

Fourth Grade: Brenda Turner, Johnny Baker, Steven Burton.

Fifth Grade: Louella Gross, Donna Holland, Rodney Thomas, Eddie Morris, Joyce Kinderick.

Sixth Grade: Margaret Ann Combs, James Marcus Campbell.

SIDE LINE

SIDE LITES

By Arlis Fields

Having a big game with an arch rival is good for a team's morale but having to face two teams, back to back, with unblemished records can give a coach fits.

Albert Combs is the mentor who may have a few restless nights until after next Tuesday night, his M. C. Napier Navajos face two early season surprises in the 14th region between now and then.

Tomorrow night the Redskins will travel to Breathitt County to take on the, so far, unbeaten Jackson Tigers of J. B. Goff. Jackson posted its 6th win in a row Tuesday night and will give the Navajos all they want in the Lees College Gym battle. Jackson has been led so far by two sharpshooters in Glenn Leveridge and Jim Turner.

Leveridge has averaged over 20 points per contest this season.

The second surprise team Combs has to worry is the Dilce Combs Panthers.

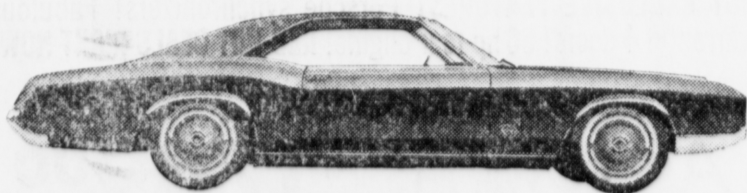

Dilce is 3-0 on the year and is a slight choice over Leatherwood to take the honors in this weekend's L.I.T. and come in to next Tuesday night's affair with a 5-0 mark.

Napier could use these two victories to put them higher in the upcoming Breathitt County Invitational Tourney which has Breathitt County, Carr Creek, and Hindman as well as MCN.

Perkins said that while traveling in the district mail and other communications could most expeditiously reach him if they were sent to the Washington office where arrangements have been made to contact him.

New Bond Film To Open Here

Another year, another exciting James Bond thriller, "Goldfinger", this current Agent 007's adventure, opens Sunday at the Family Theatre, through United Artists release, with Sean Connery again starring as the indestructible detective. As usual, he is beset by beautiful women and ugly villains.

The third and most extravagant epic of this popular series, "Goldfinger," in Technicolor, co-stars Honor Blackman as Pussy Galore and Gert Frobe as Goldfinger, a millionaire obsessed by gold and determined to rob the daddy of all gold reserves: Fort Knox!

In the process, he kills a girl who befriends Bond by brushing gold paint on her body, thus closing the pores and suffocating her. Then he attempts to end Bond's life with a laser beam; a ray of light that can cut through steel!

Richard Maibaum and Paul Dehn wrote the screenplay, which was directed by Guy Hamilton.

Concrete VS. Blacktop

Eastern Kentucky's current highway construction boom is not the first one in its history.

Back in the 1920's, the promise of new roads connecting the mountains with the rest of the world excited an entire region, and when that promise was at last fulfilled, feeling ran strong that one of our last obstacles to "progress" had been overcome.

It is hard for us today to appreciate the kind of hope that new roads of that day gave to an isolated people. For, in retrospect, we can see how woefully obsolete those new roads were, even as they were being built.

For one thing, there was little or no original designing or routing done for mountain roads like Kentucky 15. Existing footpaths and wagon roads — first traced by wild animals and Indians, almost always following, curve for curve, the course of the nearest major stream — were merely widened and covered with a thin crust of blacktop.

The very act of construction of those new roads sowed the seeds of their obsolescence. They were built without plan and of inferior materials, and it was only a matter of time before those mountaineers who had welcomed them with such joy would begin to curse and revile them because they were so ill-conceived and poorly-built.

Looking at all the new construction going on around us today, it is hard to imagine that such new highways as we are getting might be destined for the same fate as the old roads we so deplore.

They are certainly attractive enough. The engineering is better, the shoulders are wider and we are getting away from the idea that the path of a stream should also be the path of our highways.

But what we seem to be ignoring is the choice of building materials in the actual construction of the pavement.

Judging from the miles and miles of new roads made of blacktop, it is apparent that we still have not realized how inferior that fragile and fickle stuff is to the safer and more durable concrete.

The use of blacktop instead of concrete in modern highway building is a concession to cheapness. And, like all such attempts to save a few pennies on the purchase of essential things, whether they be automobiles, houses or furniture, investing our highway funds in blacktop is only going to be more expensive in the long run.

The expense will come in the enormous problems of maintenance of blacktop.

Have you ever noticed how often you see road crews out patching holes in blacktop after every spell of bad weather? Sometimes the crews spend weeks at a time rebuilding whole sections of road only three or four years old because the blacktop was deeply grooved by the wheels of heavy trucks.

Contrast this to those sturdy sections of concrete highway, where pavement laid down twenty years ago is still there, holding its own against the constant pounding of traffic and the freeze-and-thaw effects of harsh Kentucky winters.

Recently studies have proved concrete to be superior to blacktop in another, and perhaps more important way than simple economy.

Seeking to find the answer to why cars lose their traction on wet pavement, the studies revealed that blacktop, because of the porous nature of its surface, catches and holds rain water so that a car traveling at high speed is actually floating along on a film of water, and brakes are consequently virtually useless.

That's a major reason why safety officials prefer airplane runways to be made of concrete.

Add those reasons to the fact that the making of concrete involves the use of enormous amounts of coal purchased in Eastern Kentucky and you come up with a pretty iron-clad case against blacktop on our new mountain highways.

We want those highways to meet our needs for years to come. We want them to be made of the best available materials.

In short, we want the builders of our new roads in Eastern Kentucky to be guided by this simple maxim: Anything worth doing is worth doing right.

And building a modern highway properly means building it of concrete.

The Road Report . . . BY ARBA

You PAY THE BILL!

Clearing away the tons of bottles, paper, cans and assorted litter that is thrown on highways costs taxpayers more than $100 million a year. Between 750 and 1,000 Americans are killed and nearly 100,000 seriously injured each year in litter-caused accidents.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Breathitt Thanks Bond Backers

Letters To Editor:
Mr. W. P. Nolan, Editor
THE HAZARD HERALD,
Hazard, Ky.
Dear Mr. Nolan:

The overwhelming voter approval of the bond proposal is the result of a meritorious cause being advocated by outstanding community leaders. The challenge existed, your assistance was needed, and you responded ably and enthusiastically.

I take this means of expressing my personal appreciation for your outstanding contribution. You have participated in a tremendous program of progress for Kentucky and in doing so have truly bequeathed to the future a better, brighter and more prosperous Commonwealth.

Sincerely,

GOVERNOR EDWARD T. BREATHITT

Steve Webb Enjoys Herald

Dear Mr. Nolan:

You'll never know how much I truly enjoy reading the Hazard Herald and from me it goes to my sister, Roberta, who once lived in Hazard and then to Sister Bill who is another Whitesburgian. The article on the Longsone Pine Trail brought tears to my eyes — it was truly a masterpiece.

I plan to get a bit of news to you now and then — and surely will when we get settled again. Right now I am becoming a Marylander or rather I am moving to Maryland — and new address is: 1104 Schindler Drive, Silver Spring, Maryland, 20903.

Thanks always for being so kind to me and to my family.

Sincerely,

STEVE WEBB

Soldier Boy Backs Viet Nam Issue

Editor,
Hazard, Kentucky
The Hazard Herald
Dear Sir:

Would you please send me a statement of the cost of the Hazard Herald. Hazard is my home town so I would like to know what is happening back home.

I am glad to know that Kentucky is acting civilized about the war in Viet Nam.

I think the United States is absolutely right in being in Viet Nam, but of course, everyone has their own opinions. If they would only consider all the facts and not just the facts and gossip they want to consider, they would come to the conclusion that we are right by being in Viet Nam.

True, I don't want to go to Viet Nam, but I would have to go if I got orders to go. I wouldn't hesitate for a minute. From the beginning of time, freedom has been bought by the blood of the men who want to be free and who want the generations to come to be free.

Why should the United States get out of Viet Nam? There is no answer to that question, but I can tell why they should stay.

Because "God created all men equal." That has been our policy since the Revolutionary War and before. If the United States didn't give help to the small nations who need it, the whole world would soon be Communist, including the United States.

I am truly glad that all the people in the United States do not behave the way some people do. If they did, there would be no defense against Communism in the United States and we would be doomed.

I am not trying to be a hero, but am going to serve my country to the best of my ability. I believe, like our coins, "In God we Trust."

If you want to publish this, and I see no reason why you should or shouldn't, you have my permission. If you do, please send me a copy of the edition.

Sincerely Yours,

Johnson Protests Speed Bumps

Editor,
Hazard Herald

Dear Editor:

Have you driven recently over Maple Street? Several speed obstructions have been made on the traffic lane. These can cause broken automobile springs, also breaking of the THIRD COMMANDMENT. There are legal regulations governing speed over smooth traffic lanes of the city. Why install speed obstructions?

Yours very truly,

P. L. Johnson

With the closing of the squirrel season October 31st, you that stuck it out to the last reported many fine hunts, that squirrels did come in as many of you old time hunters predicted. So boys you will have another chance Dec 1st at the bushy tails. You that like deer hunting jumped out of one season right into another as DEER SEASON opened the 10th of Nov. At this writing haven't learned of any deer killed, but many of you that had a chance to hunt at Fort Knox many of you have already killed your quota.

Off hand I will try to mention some of you lucky boys that did get yours at Fort Knox. Dr. Williams, Gene Fields, Earl Campbell, Bernard Faulkner, Toad Duff, Don Duff, Sonny Owens, and there was others that I haven't received all details on as yet. Would appreciate some of you that hunted there to give me the names of others you know of. Another I can recall was Benny Roll. Congratulations to all of you boys. This is one year I had to miss to my sorrow.

NOT TOO OLD

To appreciate their flowers and garden so says Mary and Jim Napier up Maceys Creek way, they stated they sure hated to see the frost come this year because they had so many pretty flowers. Mary is 83 and Jim 86 both very young for their stated age. While Jim was waiting on Mary for something he ran into an old friend Henry Campbell from over Browns Fork way, which Henry stated that he and Jim were both of the same age. After a few words of greetings they both agreed that if they should quit working that they would really get old. How about that you tenderfoot guys like myself.

SPEAKING OF AGE

Let me suggest that soon another year will have over taken many of you, have you checked with your SOCIAL SECURITY ratings recently? Let me suggest that you do this at an early date. Don't wait until the deadline is up on your age, prepare now well in advance for what your retirement requirements are. Why not visit your local Social Security Office today, the people there will give all the data needed to complete your plans, don't rush into it blindly, be well informed to what you can expect. The employees at the Social Security offices are rendering this service for you. Let me suggest that you take advantage of this service to know where you stand. These people are willing to offer the advice you will need, it will be correct and a lot of here say. So check with them now.

A RESTLESS

World has befallen over many of you since the Election, one I hear of is none other than MA COMBS. She was talking with Burley Harris after the election and wanted to know what they were going to do. Burley suggested that she should go hunting and fishing. Now Ma Combs has a lifetime hunting and fishing license, so we are expecting some great feats from Ma's adventures from now on. Ma let me suggest that hunting and fishing never dies after the votes are counted, I won't dare suggest your age as others have had the nerve to do. Here's luck to you MA COMBS along time figure head around these parts.

I CAN'T HELP

Mention the flags that are all over town on this Nov. 11th, many I have heard this date ask, whose birthday is this. I told some that it was near mine as I only missed it a very few hours as I was born on the 12th. I think that the Lions Club should be commended on this fine program that they have set up to display the flags on important holidays. It is a remembrance of so many. Lets not forget our freedom so easily after our boys have been buried during all conflicts. Life is short as it is, when our boys have to venture into jungles and other by ways, folks to me it is something to think of. Yes so many miles away from beloved ones. Lets all hope and pray that the time will come when we can all see your loved ones home once again.

to the Treasurer's office; Asst. Treasurer Kearney Cole to move up to the top spot to succeed Emerson (Doc.) Beauchamp; House members William R. Jordan of Jenkins; James E. Murphy of Newport; and Paul E. Young of Allensville. All are seasoned House members.

Young could run for Agriculture Commissioner as well as Tom Harris who tried last time with Chandler. Deputy Commissioner Mancel Vinson may be a candidate.

Other young possibilities are Commerce Commissioner Catherine Peden, John Swinford of Cynthia, Ray Corns, for Supt. of Public Instruction to contest Wendell Butler who may want to swap his key to the Agriculture Department for that of the education department; and the old stalwarts like Henry Carter, Beauchamp, and some others who are reluctant to lay down their positions of top dogs in Democratic politics. It can be real interesting.

Thru the Years

Quotations from Herald stories of yesterday, reporting THIS WEEK in our history.

Work of improving the Walkertown road, beginning near the Y.M.C.A. and running to the plant of the Blue Grass Milk Company, is to start within ten days.

This street is to be thirty feet wide, with a concrete pavement on the side opposite the river. Retaining walls are to be built for the property owners along the street. These will be uniform. A grass plot three feet wide is to be between the street and the sidewalk. Extension of the improvement from the milk plant to the Walkertown bridge is to be taken up by the commission after January 1.

Another step toward another street improvement was completed yesterday when the city received deeds for the right of way on East Main street from Maple street to the intersection of High Street.

Complete returns from the ten city precincts of Hazard definitely returned Mayor J. J. Moran to office for another term. Returns with Mayor Moran was Police Judge Ralph Peters, who led his opponent Dewey Combs by over 400 votes.

Moran edged out opponent M. K. Eblen 1107 votes to 814.

Commissioners elected were Bill Sizemore, 990 votes; Frank Miller, 980; Elmer Roll, 968 and Ross Blondell, 942.

A mine fire at the Number 7 mine of the Knott Coal Corporation, Anco, Ky., was fought safely and successfully by the splendid cooperation of the management and the men.

When A Man's Word Is As Good As His Bond

THE BAIL SYSTEM as it operates in the United States has made a mockery of the assumption that a man's word is as good as his bond. Bail was conceived as a device to free accused persons before trial. Those on bail could earn a living, support dependents and aid in their own defense. Those without money or property, however, were penalized. For them poverty itself became a crime, punishable by imprisonment before conviction.

In 1963 the National Conference on Bail and Criminal Justice was launched to focus attention on prevailing bail practices and to work out alternatives. Out of this came experiments with pre-trial release projects in various communities throughout the country.

One was here. It was called the Jefferson County Bail Project, financed by grants from the county and the state. The project's staff is made up of UL School of Law students. They investigate defendants and recommend release without bond in certain cases. The experiment was carried out during the year ending July 31, and the results are encouraging.

In that period 112 criminal defendants were released on their word, pending trial. Out of 73 whose cases have come to trial only four failed to appear. The administrators of the project emphasize that pre-trial freedom means that the accused have a better chance of presenting their cases in court than those who are incarcerated. A study of Police Court operations during the year showed that only 60 per cent of those who made bond were convicted, as against 83.4 per cent of those who didn't make bond.

Moreover, those in charge of the experiment pointed out that the release of defendants considered reliable saves thousands of tax dollars that otherwise would be spent keeping them in jail awaiting trial.

The results of the Louisville experiment are in line with those of the Manhattan Bail Project. During that three-year pilot project, 3,505 accused persons were released on recognition. Of these, 98.4 per cent returned to court when required. Only 56 persons — 1.6 per cent — willfully failed to appear. In contrast, the forfeiture rate on bail bonds during the same period was 3 per cent.

These experiments, and others, are convincing evidence that there are practical alternatives to the traditional bail-bond system and that justice would be served by wider use of these alternatives.

quainted with our families. Then there are always hobbies we can ride like a pony in the wild west. For me it will be golfing, fishing, scouting about, cooking delicate dishes, reading poetry, writing, and making an effort to catch up with the many things I wanted so much to do while I was too busy trying to get other people going in the "straight and narrow way."

I have preached in some of the smallest churches in West Virginia and Kentucky, and never made an effort to shirk the task to which I was assigned. Now I have my second retirement day on October 31, 1965 in First Methodist Church, Fort Lauderdale, Florida. The Official Board has declared "Barnette Sunday" for this retirement occasion. I have served from the smallest to some of the largest churches, and considered my task equally as important in one as the other. The clamor for position, place and honor has never been my highest desire. The highest will surely come to any one who gives himself sincerely and honestly to his task without selfishly seeking for power, fame, or honor. Many honors have come to me, without me seeking them. I was made a Kentucky Colonel for my work in the Welfare of the county. I never knew it until it came. Whatever may have been my fortune in appreciation from my neighbors and associates has come with no solicitation on my part. I have never been able to express in words my deep reverence and love for people. I respect personality, and the individual for what he is. I have never in my life time tried to uproot any person, nor override him for his job. The Christian must have a high regard for others. Sometimes the finest things we can do for others is to try to prevent them from doing things they should not do.

A major battle is shaping up, in the young cage season, between Perry County rivals Dilce Combs and M. C. Napier.

The two cage foes meet in Memorial Gym on November 23 and chances are more than good that the two will come into the contest unbeaten.

Napier has a 2-0 record and faces Cordia and Jackson before taking on Harvey Combs and his Panthers.

Dilce has won three in a row and are good bets to capture all the honors at this weekend's Leatherwood Invitational Tourney.

The Panthers have been getting good scoring from Charles Minks and excellent rebounding from Carlson Lewis and Eddie Campbell.

In the Napier camp Brack Baker has been the top scorer in the first two outings but Albert Combs has come up with a new-comer, 8-2 senior Glennis Combs that has looked anything but bad in his first two games in a Napier uniform.

Combs had never played in a varsity or any other high school contest until Friday night. He pumped home 11 against Buckhorn and 20 in Napier's win over Lee County.

If Napier comes in with a 4-0 mark and Dilce with a 5-0 worksheet it could well be a slight preview as to who will offer the most resistance to Hazard in the 54th district.

Area football teams came out of last weekend's playoffs battling 500.

Belfry was upended by Middlesboro 21-19, in Middlesboro, for the Class AA District Title.

This was Belfry's first loss after 10 straight wins.

Fleming Neon made its first venture into Class A wars a good one as the Pirates won their 10th in a row over powering playoff veteran Lynch 15-3.

Fleming Neon will host Earlander Lloyd in a battle this weekend for region laurels.

Good to see former M. C. Napier cage coach Pete Grigsby again. Grigsby was one of the officials at the Napier-Cordia contest Tuesday night.

Pete has been head coach at McDowell for the past five years, leaving M. C. Napier after the 1960-61 campaign.

Grigsby's current club is as good as his first one at the Floyd County school which featured 6-4 Dean Stewart, who later played at Eastern and 6-5 Dave Turner who is a regular at Morehead.

This year's McDowell five is headlined by a brother act in Rick Hall and his younger brother.

McDowell has won 5 straight and according to their coach they have been averaging 90 points a contest.

The Daredevils opened the season by scoring 110 points against the Cordia Lions.

TAKE YOUR FAMILY TO CHURCH THIS SUNDAY

5 EASY 5 HARD
by Sandra Petrey

AUTHOR'S NOTE:

Concerning today's answers, perfect or near perfect scores have been recorded for: Edith Combs, Mrs. Mary Jane Daniel George H. Kawaja, Elbert "Rip" Stevens and Rev. and Mrs. John T. Stewart.

1. Uriah—"Rip" Stevens writes that it was "Uriah," and then adds that he can't find anywhere in the Bible where it says that Uriah was a captain. And, in a way, I am afraid Rip is correct as far as exact language is concerned. However, the dictionary gives several definitions of "captain," and one of them says "a man skilled in war or military affairs, a chief, a leader especially in the military." In II Samuel 11:7 we see in the KJV. RSV, and many other translations that King David asked Uriah, "... how Joab did, how the people did, an how the war prospered." (In that order.) Since Joab was at the front directing the war effort, it is certainly implied that Uriah had to be a high ranking military man in order to be in a position to know these things. Uriah is also mentioned in I Chronicles 11:41 as one of a very select group of mighty men of the armies.

2. Hittite — Although he had no doubt became an adopted Israelite. His recorded conversation and deeds bear this out. The Hittite Empire had been thought by many historians to either have been fictitious or of little importance although FORTY PASSAGES in the Bible mention the Hittites! In just the last century and into this century archaeological evidence has shown conclusively that this was a great, ancient empire, and you can read a lot about it in any modern encyclopedia. The Scriptures had been carrying this evidence for at least twenty-five hundred years!!!

3. Solomon

4. King Hiram of Tyre

5. Jerusalem

6. Adam fell.

7. We each "fell". In Romans 3:23 we read, "For all have sinned and come short of the glory of God." Also, as a race we had fallen when the man that God revealed Himself to, known in the Bible as the "First Adam", failed the test. (Now the Bible also speaks of Christ as the "Second Adam", even though there were many, many men in between)

8. Jesus Christ—He provided for our OPPORTUNITY to be reconciled with God.

9. Yes—Jesus gave up EVERYTHING for you and me.

10. Yes—We cannot comprehend how He could have been God and also man—but He was! The evidence is overwhelming for anyone who humbly seeks the Truth.

CHEVROLET WORKPOWER

WITH DOUBLE-STRONG CONSTRUCTION

Chevy pickups for '66 are built strong to stand up to tough jobs. Cabs, for example, have double-wall roof construction, a rigid double-wall cowl and husky framing around door openings. Lower side panels of Fleetside models are also double-walled. Chassis, too, is designed for extra strength. You can get a 6½-, 8-, or 9-ft. body and a big new 250-cu.-in. Six. Or specify a rugged 327-cu.-in. V8. Get a double-strong pickup that's a glutton for work!

Talk to your Chevrolet dealer about any type of truck.

This is the most expensively made Bourbon in Kentucky... and probably in the world.

(And this is true of both Fitzgeralds, Bonded and 86.8 proof Prime Straight)

How can we say this?

Years back, leading Kentucky distillers were asked to report their costs to our State. Final figures revealed our Fitzgerald Bourbon to be the most expensively made — by a Bluegrass mile.

Year after year, the story has never changed. (Probably because in 116 years we've never changed, sticking to the painstaking demands of our original Sour Mash recipe.)

You'll find Old Fitz priced among premium Bourbons — but not way above them. Have just one taste. Just a taste is all we ask... it's all we've ever needed.
